Fall has arrived.....the fall season for many is the best one, they love the warm days and the cool nights, The Harvest Moon and all the memories that were made. October is sitting square in Between September and November, October is the 10th month of the Georgian calendar. October is seen by many to be the real time of real seasonal change, both in the Northern and Southern Hemisphere. That is the great part about your memory it stores all the special events that shaped your lives and even if you do not have a paper picture to look at when you close your eyes and remember it looks the same.
