The Village of East Harbor

A SENIOR LIVING COMMUNITY

Managed by Presbyterian Villages of Michigan

Look for PVM on:

Could you use a little extra spending cash?

We were happy to hand a $250 check to Elaine Walton for referring a friend to The Village of East Harbor. This could be you next month! If you like living here and think a friend or family member of yours would like it too, all you need to do is have them call Nancy (716-7183) or Peggy (716-7397) and mention your name. If you prefer, stop in and see Nancy or Peggy in the Sales and Leasing office and tell them the person's name and phone number and they will take it from there. Can we make it even easier? We have a supply of cards that you can simply write your name on and pass out to anyone interested in moving to The Village of East Harbor!

The Sales/Leasing/Marketing/Admissions team would like to take this opportunity to wish all of our residents a very healthy and happy new year. We would also like to thank you all for choosing The Village of East Harbor as your home and making it such a wonderful place to work.

We look forward to serving you in 2017 and for many years to come!

And now we welcome the New Year, full of things that have never been!

Just stop and think about that statement for a minute. It's a new year! The old has passed and a new slate is before us - Oh the possibilities!

The scriptures, in the book of Ecclesiastes, tell us that for everything there is a season, what season will 2017 be for you? Will it be a season of forgiveness, are you determined to forgive more quickly this year? Will it be a season of growth, are you planning on learning new and exciting things, in 2017? Will it be a season of rest, have you decided to spend a little more time by the fireplace reading your favorite books?

Whatever the season, just remember it is yours for the making. You decide! You decide if there will be joy in your life, if there will be peace, love, or new friendships. So look to 2017 as a wonderful opportunity to produce bigger and better things in your life this year. You may think, it's impossible to change, grow, or try something new, but with God all things are possible!

So go ahead plunge into 2017 head on, with anticipation and excitement! Remember it's yours for the taking!

Genie in a Bottle

By Chuck Kisandi

The rain came down cleansing the gentle breeze.
Lightning flashed lightning up the midnight sky.
A lone silhouette stood beneath the trees.
Voices muted by the thunder nearby.

The storm, God's wrath against my mortal sin:
Washing away tears streaming down my cheek.
I love You God but my judgment is thin-
I love her too- where is the truth I seek?

The soft cascading of her auburn hair,
With the seductive scent of her shampoo.
Never "Don't touch-please handle it with care".
Tresses of silk to run my fingers through.

Her eyes like mystical prisms of glass
Reflecting the depth of her soul so clear.
Sparkling with joy or a touch of class.
Reaching out embracing me with a tear.

Am I to be under moral judgment?
Am I sinful for loving another?
Yet accepted in total begrudgement
Of my children-terror to their mother.

God I can not subject them to more pain.
It was with my love I hurt them not hate!
Not them, it was for me I had distain;
Hatred for me as I threatened their fate.

I don't ask her to forget or forgive;
Too much has happened to make this demand.
Memories— a lifetime— a reason to live.
Memories God— I too must understand.

I don't remember when it all began;
It was as if it was all a bad dream.
Disassociation as if by plan.
Nightmare shadows of fear— a muted scream!

Why? Why in the hell did you keep it from me?
With help I might have brought this to a halt!
Everything hazy- difficult to see...
I'm not a drunk— it had to be her fault!

There is a point, I am not sure when you
Reach it but when you do you lose control.
Your senses become clouded, none are true.
You become fragmented— no longer whole.

I don't recall why the first time that I
Hit Karen, it was erased from my mind.
Her lips swollen— a bruise beneath her eye.
Anger not sorrow was all I could find.

So many things, it all happened so fast.
Lost job— hungry kids— beggars have no pride.
Mark time with a drink— future in your past.
You open the bottle— crawl in and hide!

How many times can the kids fall out of Bed, or your wife fall down the basement stairs?
Will you ever win back their trust and love?
Where do you look for help when no one cares?

I guess I'm a winner, it's over now;
I'm out of the hospital— off the skids.
Yet I feel like a loser somehow-
After all I've lost my wife and kids!

Thank God I will soon have a brand new wife.
Whose great strength will help me carry the load.
Her understanding gave me a new life.
Pulled me from the gutter— back on the road.

The day before the wedding her dad came
Over and said, "Have one for the road son!"
For a moment I felt a tinge of shame—
"No— no— Oh hell what's the harm in just one?"?

Chuck had a hard time quitting drinking; till one day the bad he had seen in his father he now saw in himself. He decided to sit down and compose this poem to challenge himself to quit drinking and he has not had a drink in thirty years.
